1. An important meeting with Eugenio Gomez, leader of the Communist Party of Uruguay, attended by foreign and native Communists, is said to have taken place on 1 June 1948 at Communist Party headquarters in Montevideo. The principal matter treated at this meeting is believed to have been the complete reorganization of Uruguayan Communist leadership.

2. [REDACTED] the reorganization would affect Communist leaders not only among the Uruguayan Communists, but also among the Spanish, Armenian, Polish, Hungarian and other foreign groups in Uruguay. Some individuals now holding positions of leadership may, under the new setup, occupy positions of secondary importance.
